- The person that passed away is my aunt.

My aunt meant a lot to me. She was the only aunt from my mom side that I felt the most comfortable with. We use to do DIY projects together like crochet and cardboard christmas trees.

I decided to create my sugar skull in remembrance of my aunt because she meant a lot to me. I have other family members who also meant the world to me but I choose to do this skull in remembrance of my aunt.

The sugar skull reflects my aunt's personality in every way I remember her. My aunt was vibrant, elegant, and very crafty. The sugar skull is glittery and has a long cape.

Día de los Muertos had opened my mind on celebrating the passing of my loved ones. It helped me understand that they died, but they left great happy memories behind in my heart.

- ¡Hola!

Yo soy Leyitha.

¿Cómo está usted? Yo estoy agridulce o triste pero alegre.

Mi tía fue de Haïti.

Ella fue la hermana de mi madre.

Ella fue creativa y elegante.

Nosotros estamos en lo cementerio por conmemoración de mi tía.

- Yo sabo mi tía está en cielo. Ella fue una buena tía.
