"Your PA tax dollars at work, siccing dogs on Native American protesters"

Do you know where your tax dollars are going?

A couple of weeks ago members of North Dakota's Standing Rock Sioux Tribe had a protest due to an environmentally risky oil pipeline across their land in which they were attacked and sprayed for protecting what's important to them. The Dakota Access pipeline which will cost $3.8 billion dollars where your PA tax dollars will be going towards will destroy burial rock piles, called cairns, and other sites of spiritual significance. The oil will also be getting into the water that we use.

Be more aware of where your money is going towards they are taking your retirement money to build something that will have a big impact on our global warming. "Without water, we wouldn't be here." Stand up for what is right!
