

Our Final Presentation

Myleah and Justin

Our Main Focus:

Our main focus of the project was to have a platform showing different perspectives on students in our school. We wanted to show kids the real raw footage of what may happen or how the students and teachers feel about high school. Going from middle school to high school can be a big difference, so we wanted to give a view of SLAB from inside.

Why does this matter to the community?

This is important it will show our students and teaches from a different perspective. We have interview a lot of people with questions that really make you think. For people on the outside they will see our students and teachers in a light they may have never seen. For the students and teachers at SLAB watching They might see

Our Process:

We started with figuring out how we want to make the videos to get our points across and decided on an interviewing style. Then, we began recording interviews. Also, recorded extra film of the school and bloopers. We then began making our youtube channel, coming up with the name and banner. Now coming towards the final product we are in the editing process.

How Our Project Changed

At first, we were going to make a documentary with the footage but, we felt it would be better to make short clips based off of the questions we asked in our interviews. We made a youtube channel and the videos will consist of students high school experience, funny clips and deep conversations that make you have to think

Artifact of What We Made

Final Project

What we learned from this process was, to have a plan and make sure you have plan on how you will execute the main plan. Also, try not to switch your ideas around so much, keep a solid idea and you will be fine.
